

VETS TOWN HALL

DAY, DATE, YEAR
LOCATION, CITY, STATE
vetstownhall.org

WELCOME, AND THANK YOU FOR JOINING US!

This afternoon, veterans are invited to speak about what their service means to them. A number of veterans have already indicated to us that they'd like to speak. Time permitting, we'll then open up the floor for other veteran attendees to speak.

GUIDELINES FOR ATTENDEES

Listening without judgment or interruption is one of the most powerful and supportive acts a person can offer, and that is what is expected of veterans and non-veterans alike. You may hear something you disagree with, you may have a question, or you may want to say encouraging words with the intention to help. However, we ask that you refrain from commenting in any way during the event. If veterans wish to continue a conversation with you afterward, that is entirely up to them. But the point of this event is simply to give veterans a chance to speak, and to bring the community closer around them.

There will be no question-and-answer period afterward, no discussion of U.S. foreign policy, no debate on the merits or justifications of war. We are simply here to listen and learn about what it was like to serve in the wars that this nation has chosen to fight.

All perspectives are valued and important.
